

The Story of the Bag That Missed the Bin

This is the bag that missed the bin
And was washed down the drain by a shower of rain

These are the pipes the bag floats in,
From drain, down Clyde to sea

This is the bird that ate the bag
Her tummy is sore
She can't eat any more
But she still has a wish:
Let her children eat fish

This is the bin the rubbish went in
And not down the drain
Despite all the rain

This is the bird, with sea clean and blue
Who catches a fish, and says THANK YOU!
